

At Great Minds® we believe that classrooms should be places where students and teachers encounter wit, wisdom, wonder, rigor, and knowledge.

We believe literature, history, art, and science all have a place in English language arts. And we believe students can become confident readers, writers, listeners, and speakers while building deep, well-rounded knowledge of the world around them.

That's why we developed Wit & Wisdom®. Wit & Wisdom is transforming English language arts instruction in classrooms across the nation. Designed by our expert team of teacher-writers, the curriculum features knowledge-building lessons and a carefully curated selection of art and complex texts that help you meet the expectations of the standards while celebrating the world of knowledge with your students.

In addition to the Core Texts that are part of Wit & Wisdom lessons, each module includes a Volume of Reading list.

What are Volume of Reading texts?

Volume of Reading texts are literary and informational texts that teachers can use for additional classroom instruction and students can select for independent reading. Wit & Wisdom Volume of Reading texts help students of all abilities expand their knowledge of each module topic. The texts vary in genre and level of complexity and are not required, but they are a great way for students to get extra practice building vocabulary and content knowledge—and develop a love of reading. This list of recommended texts, each with associated Lexile level information and topical questions, appears in Appendix D of each Wit & Wisdom module. Please note that some titles on this list can show up in multiple modules depending on the topic.

How are texts selected?

The teacher-writers who design Wit & Wisdom look for books that support students in building knowledge of each module's topic. The team carefully chooses books—often from award lists such as Newberry and Caldecott—and closely reviews them before adding them to the Volume of Reading list.
